

A Collaborative Effort

Investing in the future of our profession.

Complimentary
.1 NCRA CEU
CREDIT AVAILABLE

Additional credit may be available in some states.

Re-popularizing the reporting profession together with accessible resources and tangible opportunities.

The History of Reporting

Learn the history of the written record in legal proceedings from its advent to modern day. We'll explore court reporting from its inception to the prominence of the modern-day CSR, historic cases and the evolution of the profession at large.

Forging Ahead

Court reporting has afforded an excellent career to tens-of-thousands. The profession is well respected, challenging, lucrative, interesting and attainable. Let's examine declining enrollment, school closures, exam statistics and the reporter shortage.

Efforts Already Underway

Freelance reporters are not often intimately involved with the agencies they work with in a developmental capacity. However, many stakeholders are taking steps to re-vitalize the profession, spotlight the opportunity of court reporting and are trying to drive enrollment in schools. Discover the efforts already underway to promote positive change within the industry.

How Can I Contribute?

We often look at monumental issues from the perspective of individuals, rather than as a community at large. Let's explore tangible actions, opportunities and resources that we can all undertake to impart meaningful positive change for our profession.

Register for this webinar at www.veritext.com/ceu