

Depositions in Tokyo?

EMBASSY REQUIREMENTS + AN INTERPRETER + INTERCONTINENTAL INTEGRATION | VERITEXT'S GLOBAL SERVICE HAS NO LIMITS.

THE CHALLENGE

Facing several upcoming matters, a client sought guidance on navigating a particularly complex international deposition in Tokyo. The engagement presented multiple layers of difficulty: unfamiliar foreign logistics, language barriers, intercontinental coordination, and strict requirements from a foreign embassy.

With limited internal experience handling proceedings in Japan, the client needed a partner who could confidently manage both the known challenges and the unexpected variables inherent in intercontinental litigation.

OUR SOLUTION

Veritext stepped in as a strategic advisor, outlining a clear path forward and demonstrating our global capabilities. When the matter became active months later, our team coordinated every detail, including:

- Managing all embassy protocols and compliance requirements
- Securing a highly qualified Japanese interpreter aligned with the case needs
- Overseeing scheduling and logistics across time zones
- Ensuring seamless integration as the matter expanded into related domestic proceedings

By centralizing communication and execution, we eliminated complexity for the client and ensured consistency across borders.

THE RESULT

What began as a single inquiry evolved into a series of flawlessly executed international and domestic depositions.

From Tokyo to the United States, each proceeding was handled with precision, continuity, and care, allowing the client to stay focused on case strategy rather than logistics.

IMPACT

Veritext transformed complex, cross-border challenges into streamlined, reliable solutions.

By combining global reach with hands-on expertise, we served as a true extension of the client's team, delivering confidence, clarity, and execution at every stage.
