Based on the overwhelming popularity of The iAttorney, we are proud to introduce iAttorney 2.0. Discover the most exciting and useful apps for all stages of the legal process including:

Realtime Apps. These apps allow you to view, mark, and search realtime streaming transcripts produced at the deposition by court reporters on your tablet.

Paperless Depositions. Tired of lugging 5 boxes of documents to your deposition only to introduce just a few? Now there is a more efficient way to work with your documents and share them electronically right from your iPad.

Locked and Loaded. When preparing for mediation or trial, you'll need to move documents from your computer to your iPad. This section will address the different ways in which you can transfer data to your iPad and what to do in the event of a document emergency.

On the Record/Off the Record. With pizzazz and power, tablets can be effective tools for presenting at trial or mediation. Learn how to present your Keynote or PowerPoint slideshow from your device, including tips and tricks for connecting to projection equipment and mirroring.

Impactful Trial Apps.

Search, highlight, mark up, manage, sign, annotate, download and run reports on transcripts and exhibits from anywhere at any time.

iPads for Judges and Jurors. As we see it, iPads in the hands of judges and jurors is the way of the future.: innovative, exciting, cost-effective, and interesting. We'll discuss the most recent experiments and developments in this exciting new use of iPads.
